Hudson Community Foundation awards grants

The Hudson Community Foundation (HCF) made distributions to local non-profit organizations helping Hudsonites overcome obstacles related to the COVID-19 virus. Donations were collected from local donors who responded to the foundation's appeal for contributions specifically related to the virus and its impact on local families. Sincere thanks to those who have contributed to HCF to support our community especially this time of need. Special recognition for Jim and Nancy Cleveland for their generous donation to support our community in need.

The ripple of COVID-19 has demonstrated once again the value and importance of a locally-responsive community foundation such as ours. We are here to serve our donors and neighbors in need. We will continue to collect for COVID-19 relief funds for the the Hudson NOW Fund, which benefits various social service organizations who are serving needs in Hudson.

Founded in 2000, Hudson Community Foundation's mission is to enhance the quality of life in Hudson by increasing charitable giving, educating and connecting donors to community needs and leading on community issues. Supported by hundreds of local donors and Donor Advised Funds, HCF ended 2018 with total assets of $16.7 million. The foundation operates from an office in the historic Baldwin House on Hudson's village green and is governed by a volunteer board of directors.
